Genius is not to be had for the asking, neither is talent for that matter, though you can get it by the trying. It is perfectly futile, however, to say, "Go to now, I'll be a genius," nothing that you can do to yourself, or have done to you, affects the genius bump, or ganglion, or joint, or whatever it may chance to be that genius didn't choose for its throne

Talent, on the other hand, is often a matter of adenoids. If your child lacks talent, remove his tonsils. The increase of sheer talent for the year 1912, from this single operation for adenoids (could it be figured) would amaze the secretary of agriculture, familiar as he is with large increases in crops. There has not been a drop added to the bucket of genius so far as we know.

The great difference, of course, is due to fundamental differences in the qualities (if they can be called qualities) themselves. Talent is generally distributed all over a person. If he has talent he has it from the inside of his head to the flat of his foot. If he has genius it is local, all centered in one spot-some set of cells of the head, or in the right hand, or left foot-anywhere but not everywhere.

Genius therefore is a kind of over-development, an abnormality, whereas talent is the result of perfectly normal causes. Only normal, healthy men are men of talent. The genius may be healthy enough but whatever sort of genius he may be you will find the fresh streak in him; for while the man of talent is a rounded whole made up of parts, the genius is a mere part for which the whole was sacrificed.

The test for talent is a wide range of averages; the test for genius is single supreme excellence.

Take the case of Jimmie, for instance—the boy who used to work for me on the farm. Jimmie was a genius. He wore a dollar watch, carried it rather in the hollow of his hand—a hollow that had been worn there by the watch. The watch cost him a dollar, and he looked at it for two dollars' worth of time every day he worked for me. He had a genius for keeping time his own time and mine. Men of talent I had known; but Jimmie was the only one who could kill time with a watch of that price to such perfection.

Genius is a disease in children, as common almost as mumps. Talent among children is rare. If you have a child of genius, as doubtless you have, don't exhibit him. It aggravates the disease. Every time a boy of mine shows symptoms of genius I send him out to pick stones. It used to be thought that such children died young. No, they usually linger along till college commencement day and then fade away. Not so the child of talent.

If you are looking for genius by this test in yourself or in your children, stop! Life will bring you its Oallen Fore Sharp. full share of disappointments. Don't search for them.

Education will be one of the means of transforming China into a modern republic. The younger Chinese are eager to learn. I have recently traveled through a greater portion of the republic and find that the young Chinese in all parts of the country are anxious to learn the ways of the western world. I have talked to many American missionaries who have lived in China for many years and they are all of the same opinion. Wages are very small in China. In many places a laborer cannot make enough in one day to purchase a cake of soap. The missionaries e been telling the children that by education they can earn more than

One of the first things that will be taught the Chinese children will be modern languages, so that they can extend their trade with other coun-

The Chinese are very enterprising, and now that they have a republic it will not be very long before they will adopt the modern methods that are in vogue in the civilized world. Trade conditions will develop slowly.

It will possibly be ten or twenty years before really good results may be obtained from a commercial campaign that is being inaugurated in many European countries. Germany is looking abroad and will try and get the lion's share of the Chinese business in the future.

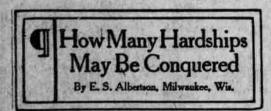

A number of hotels and cafes in the west have started a movement that has found favor with the men. Men are allowed to take off their coats in the diningrooms of the hotels and cafes during the hot weather. Of course, it is not every man that wants to do this, but it does make a great many men feel real homelike to be able to take off their coats and roll up their sleeves in a swell cafe without fear of falling under the displeasure of the head waiter.

A few of the waiters in the more elite establishments consider the coatless person with great contempt, but they have orders from the management to keep mum. It does seem pretty hard that a man should have to sit in a restaurant in a heavy coat on a very hot day while they are surrounded by a host of pretty girls wearing dresses which come under the ban of the police for being improper. There is nothing wrong about a man taking off his coat while eating. Suspenders do not look very nice, but if the men are allowed to take off their coats in restaurants it is more than likely that they will be willing to do away with suspenders during the hot weather.

The west is always starting some new fad. Women all over the world have had their day, so it is now about time that poor man should be given a thance.

The hardships and struggles of life do not change love. Going down to a pauper's grave does not change love. The trouble with most young women of this age is that they do not marry for love. Money does not make true love. Neither does the absence of money drive away true love. There are a lot of old sayings that have never come true. And this is one of them: "When poverty comes in at the door love flies out at the The "pure and deep respect" for a man will fly out of the window before true love, and you will be left with nothing to live for on earth. Leave the selecting of a husband to the girl herself, for the girls are just like the men. You can't make them do anything if they don't want to do it. A reciprocating engine, according to a ten-year-old boy who is making a study of mechanics, is "one that kin ketch you goin' an' comin'."

The policewomen of Chicago will wear a uniform. It is said it w be a stunning creation, but necessarily not of the hobble variety.

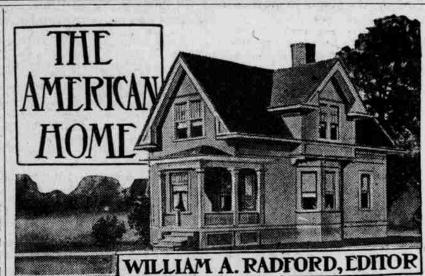

When it is all boiled down it seems that the trouble is not what woman wears, but what she leaves off.

Sometimes when you take a man's note for a debt you have to whistle for your money.

Just Wanted Some Information. There is a Chicago lawyer, whose "Why, when we was up the Ams m." said the loquacious sailor, "the post on the leaves and bark-"Come, come," remonstrated one of a street car, when a burly citizen his audience, "you can't expect us to boarded as the car turned a curve; believe that, you know. Mosquitoes lurched forward and sat down plump "Whatis butt in for be in the lap of the legal light. He rose fore I finished?" queried the sailor in-dignantly. "What I was goin' to say sponded the thin man, cordially, that's all right. that they'd roost on the leaves bark of the trees. But he found bark of the trees. But he found thing, did you think I was painted on established. Teachers in the public addressing space.

"that's all right. But tell me one about 200 dental clinics have been established. Teachers in the public established. Teachers in the public about 200 dental clinics have been established. Teachers in the public established established. Teachers in the public established established. Teachers in the public established established extremely frail physique is frequently the subject of his own facetiousness On one occasion this lawyer was in man who builds a house is no excep-

This plan is especially designed for a good-sized family, where there are several children. There should be children in every family, and there should be plenty of house accommodation to make things pleasant and comfortable for them. They should have their bedrooms to themselves as much as possible, and the rooms should be furnished to their liking. The tastes

Second Floor Plan.

of children are simple and easily ca-

Before the carpenters go away, have them make a flagpole, and put it high up, where it will show well.

Then buy a good flag, and help the "kids" to hoist it every holiday, but especially the morning of the Fourth of July. It will give them a lesson in These little instances are remer bered in after years. They help to tie the interest of growing children to the tered to, and it pays to do it.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer we have to take some chances. The prestions and give advice FREE OF man who builds a house is no excep questions and give advice FREE COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he highest authority is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 178 West Jackson boulevard, Chicago, Ill., and only two-cent stamp for reply. If you have $3,000 to put into 8 nouse, and have family enough to need four or five bedrooms, you probably could not find a better plan than the one here presented. It is large, roomy and sensible. This house ooks well when it is new: and i never will go out of fashion, because there are no faddy notions worked nto it, and it is so thoroughly well built that it will defy time and the elements for a good many years.

I have known of many instance where fancy fashions were carried into house building to such an extent that I should rather have the mate rials that were used in building than the house after it is finished. With the exception of a better arrangement of the partitions to economize room and increase comfort, this style of house has been built for twenty or thirty years, and it has always been popular. Such houses sell readily, especially when they are built in good residence section of the town. A house as large as this, practically 27 by 45 feet, should have a lot at least 50 feet wide. The appearance of a good-sized house is often injured by placing it on a narrow lot. There is no sense in economizing at the wrong place. A 50-foot lot may cost one or two hundred dollars more than a 40-foot lot; but in five years time, if the neighborhood improves as good residence neighborhoods usually do, the owner would consider a couple of hundred dollars a very small compensation for a slice of ten feet taken from one side of his handsome lot. This is one of the side issues in building that some men are fore starting to build is the drainage. a great deal to the "kids" in health. On this account an elevation is worth and it will save you a great deal of a great deal. The sewers may cost anxiety, and probably some expense nearly as much per lot on high ground in doctor's bills. Build them another as they do through the lower section of the town, because usually the lots are wider, although the diameter of the sewer may be considerable less. Sewers start from the higher levels, and increase in size as they go down-

First Floor Plan

noticed that new sewers are needed hollows than they are on the hills.

that I know of on the higher ground, and that is that the air in the sewers has a habit of moving to the highest passing sewer openings that there is quite an outward draught of disagreeable, steamy sewer odors that is anything but pleasant. I have noticed this on lower ground, but I think it s a great deal more common on the hills. I do not know that this escapng sewer steam is detrimental to health. As a usual thing, plumbers are supposed to get rather more than their share of sewer perfume, but so far as I know they are a very healthy lot of fellows. At the same time, if I knew that a sewer opening would act as a ventilator, I should very much prefer moving my house Josh Billings used to say: "Them is some uv the things that no feller kin

Teachers Ald Movement.

There is only one sewer objection days? The neighbors' youngsters came in and helped to raise a great Those living on the lower lots row, and your mother usually put up may have plenty of outlet; but I have with it patiently. Well we haven't got any woodsheds now; firewood trees are all burned up, and we don't need much of a building to hold coal; but we still have the children, and we can make comfortable playrooms for them if we have the inclination to do so. Rainy days are long days for children, unless they have some place to go other than the kitchen or the living room. They love to make all the noise they feel like making.

The other day in my walk I came upon two phoebes' nests under overhanging rocks, both with half fledged young in them, and in neither case were the parent birds in evidence. They did not give their secret away by setting up the hue and cry that nesting birds usually set up on such occasions. I finally saw them, as silent as shadows, perched near by, with food in their beaks, which they finally swallowed as my stay was prolonged And the nests, both on a level with my eye, were apparently filled only with a motionless mass of bluish oftener, and extensive repairs are a mold. As I gently touched them, ingreat deal more aggravating, in the stead of four or five heads with open mouths springing up, the young only settled lower in the nest and disposed themselves in a headless, shapeless mass. The phoebe is evidently a very cautious bird, though no birds are points of escape. This is not always the case, but I have often noticed in playhouse in the attic for stormy days. Don't you remember, when you were a "kid," how you used to enjoy playing in the woodshed on rainy more familiar about our porches and outbuildings.-John Burroughs in the Atlantic Monthly. "I suppose that you are relieved of onsiderable expense now that it is no onger necessary for you to supply the midnight oil for your son at college?" "On the contrary," explained the father, "since commencement I have been impressed with the relatively higher cost of burning midnight gaso-

You Can Usually Tell. "His wife must be an awfully swell a block or two away from it; but, as "Neither have I. I was judging by the hand-me-downs he wears." find out." No matter what we do, making public necessity for mouth The International Commission for hygiene public Mouth Hygiene has representation from twenty-two countries. It Will Urge Amendment. was established in Berlin in 1909 and the growth of the movement to have compel congress to act on the woman dental inspection in the schools has suffrage amendment during the week been phenonmenal. Germany esti- of convention in Washington, early in mates its loss in vitality through de- December. Dr. Anna Shaw will be the fective teeth to be more than $50,000, principal speaker at the convention 000 per year, despite the fact that and others who will speak are Mrs schools have been of great help in merly of Chicago.

the time and save us both embarrass ment," he replied. She turned from him and walked FORGAVE EACH OTHER away, and half a minute later he was

was the "tiff," that his mother was there was any feeling of satisfaction.

The trouble with a lover in cases of The cousin from the west married the news. That was another grouch.

Why didn't Miss Fanny deny the gossip more vigorously? Why didn't she roll up her eyes, raise her right hand

I can never love anybody but thee!"

Had she so sworn? Not by a jug-

Mr. Aikens' furnishing store closed route. Miss Fanny was aware of this, but had she thrown herself in his Weeks passed. Then he got the the riverside. He would wander out on an old dock and sit on an old bar-

On this night-on this particular night-the moon rode high, to be high-from infancy. From various quarters and now and then a dog barked or an

It was a night for reflection. It was be sold for 90 cents and then make 30

It was too late in the season for assassins. None of the ministers in town were given to walking in their sleep. It was a light step-a human step-not that of a cow. It came on, halted beside him. One-two

The young man looked up and gave

Never in this world will it be admit ted that she knew of his presence and had come to make up. It is a thousand chances to one that she thought he was up at Troy buying his fall stock of collars and cuffs. Anyhow

It has been stated that the dock was old and rickety. It was strong enough to withstand a fair start, when he heard his name lovingly whispered

That dock sighed and groaned and staggered and went down under the Two feet of water and two of muc but it was enough. After the lovers had flopped around for awhile the girl's life was saved and the young man climbed out beside her. They were very wet and very muddy, but they were very happy. Each had for given the other, and the collar market was firm at one for 15 cents, or two (Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

A New York politician, stump nally the politician said: "If the gentleman at the back of the hall who is so anxious that the audience should know his name will write it on a slip instead of bawling it at the top of his voice he will save himself a lot of Right of Discovery.

Budlong)-And so you are really en-

Miss Budlong (quite provokingly)-

Yes, dear; and I want you to suggest Envious Contemporary-If I were

Charles R. Crane of Chicago is particularly interested in the work of the American Mission school at Koritza, Albania, and the efforts that girls' college. Before the Balkan war the Turks made some trouble, but since that time the board is assured in your place I'd just have the simple something sweet and tender to go in gaged to Mr. Timid Smithkins?

An Envious Contemporary (to Miss peace and his identity my engagement ring.

word "Eureka."-Puck

"A capable couple."

of paper and hand it to the chairman who kept shouting, "Liar! Liar!"

A step on the dock!

a start. It was Fanny!

she was there.

for a quarter.

strain.

ever wore a hobble skirt.

look upon, and was considered a catch, a night for a young man who had made and say in a loud firm voice:

it rested with some one else.

By DONALD ALLEN.

The current of love between Miss er than a full moon. Randolph had Fanny Drew and Mr. Randolph Aikdeliberately provoked the quarrel, as ens was running along so smoothly he had to admit to himself, and if as to be almost vexatious. Any old maid or old bachelor will tell you that a tiff now and then between two people in love adds spice to it.

this sort is that he is not content with There are people who wonder if making a donkey of himself. He must Adam and Eve quarreled. Of course be two or three of them. Instead of they did. They were rushed at each going back to the girl and "fessing other even without an introduction, up" and having it all over with in half and there was no squeezing hands or an hour, he must go round with the walks beneath the silvery moon. air of a martyr and keep the whole Adam was grouching around the gar- United States upset for weeks. He den by his lonesome when he caught knows that the girl can't and won't sight of Eve peeking out from behind visit his gent's furnishing store to ask a lilac bush and he called out: about a dollar shirt for her father and

"Here, you woman, come along here | make it an excuse for looking at him and guit your fooling!" in a heart-broken way and hinting that It wasn't a fair shake nor a square she has consumption and not long deal, and the more one thinks of it to tarry. No, she can't and won't the more he wonders that love is the come, and that's another grouch sentiment that we find it. "They have been loving and have a little note—she ought to do this and een engaged over a year," said the that, and he keeps right on the donmother of the young man in this af- key job till Destiny gets mad and fair, that took place later on than slam-bangs him. Adam's by several years, "and they haven't had a falling out yet."

"Then they'll never marry-never!" "I'm afraid not."

"Because, when a woman really loves a man she wants to get in a dig at him once in awhile!" "She does." "She wants to let him know about twice a month that he isn't the only man on this green earth-not by long shot!" "That's it." "And he wants a chance to get jealous over nothing, and to stump around at eight o'clock in the evening. He and tear down trees and write letters always went home by a particular and call her a perfidious wretch." "He surely does." "And after she has sent him back way and given him good evening and his letters and the engage-ring, and a show? Not a blamed throw, and both have lost a heap of sleep and when he thought it over he fairly called themselves idiots, they come gritted his teeth.

sneaking around and make up and love each other twice as well as they did before." "That's just it." "If I was in your place, Mrs. Aikens, rel and sigh and cuss a couple of I'd advise Randolph to pick a quarrel. hours and then head for home saying If I was the mother of Fanny I'd ad- he didn't care a rap for my girl that vise her the same. They'll never get married if this thing goes on as placid as molasses running down hill." No advice was given, however. It er than the cost of living. The little was not needed. There is a divinity waves of the river lapped at the old whose job it is to look out that love dock, as they had been trained to do matches do not become too draggy and insipid, and she hit the trail of came plaintive walls of the bullfrogs Randolph Aikens within 40 days after his mother had expressed her worries. owl hooted. While Miss Fanny Drew was fair to the young man had no trouble in a donkey of himself to sit and think shouldering other aspirants aside and whether the best dollar shirt could not having the field to himself. Things were jogging along at an per cent. profit? Also to wonder how easy gait when the young lady's cous- he came to do it! Also, to wonder in came on from the west and brought why some mutual friend didn't take a Rocky Mountain breeze with him. hold of the matter and make it his and happy and hand- or her business to bring about a re some, and he had a ranch on which conciliation! Also, lots of other the cattle were as thick as flies about things. a sugar bowl. It was announced by some kind-hearted person that he had come on to marry Miss Fanny and bear her hence to the land of alkali.

If the rumor was denied no one heard Young Aikens met the "wild and woolly" and they were introduced and three minutes the owner of that ster shook hands. The Westerner was waited before whispering the name, breezy. He was a hustler. He talked straight from the shoulder. He asserted he was after a bride to share the scenery with him and eat her portion of grass-fed beef that roamed on a hundred hills, and he added that he gave himself just two weeks to fall in love, appear before the minister sand pile anyway. It will be worth and pack his trunk and scoot for the west with his bride on his arm. Young Aikens had a half-interest a gent's furnishing store, and he could not reconcile $4 silk scarfs with tackboots and slouch hats. After 30 seconds' consideration he concluded to hate his cousin.

quarrel with Miss Fanny, and he began: "Wouldn't it been an act of consideration to have told me you were engaged to him?" "Randolph, what are you talking

Five minutes later he had decided to about?" she exclaimed "Your marriage with chaser from the west!' "My cousin? Why do you speak of him in that way? Tom is a breezy, whole-souled fellow.' "And you will probably be very hanpy with him."

"Have you taken this silly gossip earnest?' "It may be silly gossip, but from the speeching in a neighboring city, was way he looks at youseveral times interrupted by a man

"Why, he's my own cousin." "Yes?"

"And we used to play children!" "Ah!"

"Mr. Aikens, will you kindly explain what that 'ah' was meant to signify?" asked the girl as she drew herself up and ceased to smile. "If you will kindly tell me the date trouble." But the interrupter kept his of the wedding I will be out of town at

HIS REBUKE COMING Old Lady Gives Effective Reply Alleged Smart Remark of Youth ful Smoker.

The youth was puffing away at a pipe, despite the pained expression on the old lady's face. 'Young man," she barked, so far as her coughing would permit her.

"do you know that it's wrong to smoke? "Well," replied the lad as he blew wreath of smoke, "I use tobacco for my health."

"Health!" ejaculated the victim, in spluttering tones. "Nonsense! You are being made to enlarge it into a never heard of anyone being cured by moking. "res I have," declared the youth, still puffing away like a furnace chim- that the Greek government will offer ney. "That's the way they cure pigs." no opposition. "Then smoke away," cried the vic-"There may be hope for you

Are the trains too slow for you! "Yes, he is furnishing the house by means of tobacco coupons, and she Caesar with all of his court, never exceeded the speed limit. is decorating it with bridge prizes."

pices of the Carnegie institution of Geologist of Repute. Washington, making some interesting Prof. Bailey Willis, who is returndiscoveries. Professor Willis has also ng to South America to complete his written a number of scientific works. work, was loaned to the Argentine overnment two and a half years ago A Familiar Metaphor. the United States geological and odetic bureau to conduct a survey the Andes and Patagonia. He is

"Once upon a time," said the oldfashioned lady who tells fairy storf 3, ecognized as one of the most author-"there was a terrible ogre who ate up tative men in his profession in the everything and everybody in sightvorld, and has been the geologist of "Oh, let's don't talk about the scientific expedition under the and fairy story."

INTERNATIONAL kicking himself for a born fool. There hoping for, and from the looks of things it would last considerably long-LESSON

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 16

THE DEATH OF MOSES.

LESSON TEXT-Deut. 34:1-12.

The Old Leader, vv. 1-8. We have now come to the last of our lessons which have to do with Moses. Following his lamented failure at the time of the second arrival at Kadesh-Barnea, Miriam dies; at Mt. Hor, Aaron departed and his office is he add to his stock. She ought to send stowed upon his son, Eleazar. Then quickly followed the plague of serpents the defeat of the king of the Amorites, Balaam's folly, the apostasy of Israel which was cleansed by blood through the zeal of Phinehas, and finalgirl in a village five miles away and ly the arrival upon the plains of went home to his steers and his alkali, and of course young Aikens got

Law Confirmed.

Here Moses repeats and confirms the law to this new generation of Israel, delivers his last charge, sings his last song, ascends Mt. Nebo to view Canaan, and is "forever with "Randolph, I swear to high heaven; the Lord." In the passage marked out for this lesson we have the account of full! Very well; let her suffer for the the passing of this wonderful servant of God. Returning to ch. 31:1-8 and 32:44-52 we see this journey in pros pect, after that we read Moses' parting blessing and in this section we read of the fulfilment of that prospect Moses anticipated his departure by a quiet dignity, absolutely divorced from haste or fret, that was characteristic of his life of submission and was the essence of his life of faith. No protest, no complaint, calm acquiescence to the will of God. At the same time habit of taking evening walks along there was absolute confidence that the will of God would be carried out, see ch. 31: 1-8. Strength and courage were to be the portion of Israel unde their new leader, Joshua. Before departure Moses solemnly charged this newer generation to observe the law, declaring that it is not vain nor an empty thing, but in deed and in truth to them the way of life. Then comes the simple dignified account of this last act of obedience, simple, yet sublime. Yonder we see aim, viewed by the hosts of Israel as he ascends the mountain alone-yet not alone-prepared to spend his last hours upon earth with Jehovah, who doubtless appeared as the angel-Jehovah and pointed out to him the land he so much longed to enter, but could not because he falled to sanctify God in the sight of the people at a the people, hence, "It went ill with Moses for their sakes," Ps. 106:32. There upon the mount God's covenant with Abraham is confirmed and with undimmed eye and undiminished vigor (v. 7), Moses was shown the fufilment of that promise, his body was laid at rest by God himself, in an un-known and unmarked sepulchre, "over against Beth-Peor," v. 6, and the children of Israel mourned for him thirty days. The sight from the mountain top revealed to Moses was not to tantalizbe him, far from it, but rather that as he viewed that prospect he was to be rewarded for those forty vears of leadership and struggle.

be fulfilled; shall not all others be fulfilled? (Titus 1: 2). II. The New Leader, v. 9. God never leaves his people without a leader and hence Joshua is exalted to compensate Israel for the loss of Moses. "The king is dead-long live the king." The worker dies the work goes on and many times the victories of the new leader are fully as great and far reaching as any won by the former leader. Joshua was not Moses, he was Joshua and as such called to face new problems. He had his own equipment, "the spirit of wisdom" received through Moses, the channel of God's power (v. 9), and was given his own particular instruction, Josh. 1: 1-9. He was called of God but he had the experience and training of Moses to prepare him for his life's work. The children of Israel gave this new leader a cheering reception; (1) they listened to him; (2) they obeyed him, a thing they had not always done for Moses.

Jehovah's promise of more than four hundred years' standing is about to Joshua was not so great as Moses because his work was not so great. III. A Great Character, vv. 10-12. The description of Moses is of one who saw Jehovah face to face, a peculiar dignity, and the secret of his greatness. Vhen Aaron and Miriam murmured God declared that Moses was different from all other prophets in that, "with him will I speak mouth to mouth, even manifestly, and not in dark speeches, and the form of Jehovah shall he behold." Num. 12:6-8. Moses himself declared to Israel that when God spoke to them out of the midst of the fire, "I stood between the Lord and you," Deut. 5:4, 5. The supreme teaching of this lesson is the fact that great as Moses was, he was nevertheless excluded from the promised land as a warning to Israel. On the other hand this story is a wonderful illustration of the tender compassion and watchful care of Jehowah even to the end. Even the discipline of Jehovah is accompanied by gentleness. If he must needs be excluded yet he is not excluded from communion with Jehovah.

Thus this saint who was separated to the will of God passes out of life. In the hour of the consummation of his life work his spirit passes into yet closer fellowship with God. The Psalmist in the words of the golden text most beautifully suggests that such an hour is a delight to God, and suggests the welcome which must be awaiting his saints. Do not forget the last glorious appearing of Moses after the lapse of the centuries when:

"On the hills he never trod Spoke of the strige that won our life With the Incarnate Son of God." "Death and judgment were a constant source of fear to me until I realfred that neither shall have any hold on the child of God." D. L. Moody: Do not put death out of consideration but welcome it as Moses welcomed When we stand on Pisgah, can we say we did our full duty? In that hour the plaudits of men will be Moses was a great hero, prophet, priest, law-giver, poet and general, admonitions and obey the law.

COULDN'T FOOL MR. MARTIN

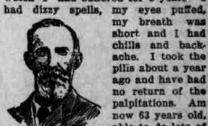

Alleged Fact of Natural Mistory Alto gether Too Much for Him to Believe.

The best people in Dark Hollow had fust begun to sit up and take notice of the fact that along the Great White Way and in other large centers there was such a thing as the turkey trot. The Martin family however, living on the far outskirts of the Hollow, had not heard of this peculiar and seductive

"I see," said Mrs. Martin, "by the Dark Höllow Weekly Struggle that a lot of chickens in Chicago are turkey trotting." "Shucks!" said Mr. Martin, with ineffable disdain. "That's just another mistake in one of those bulletins that the dinged, crazy department of agriculture sends out. They're always trying to tell us farmers something that's absolutely contrary to nature."-Popular Magazine.

JUDGE CURED, HEART TROUBLE. I took about 6 boxes of Dodds Kidney Pills for Heart Trouble from which I had suffered for 5 year. I able to do lots of Judge Miller. manual labor, am well and hearty and weigh about 200 pounds. I feel very grateful that I found Dodds Kidney Pills and you may publish this letter if you wish, I am serving my third teym as Probate

Judge of Gray Co. Yours truly, PHILIP MILLER, Cimarron, Kan. Correspond with Judge Miller about this wonderful remedy. Dodds Kidney Pills, 50c. per box at Buffalo, N. Y. Write for Household Hints, also music of Nation (English and German words) and recipes for dainty dishes. All 3 sent free.

Wild Honey.

The honey that comes out of a bee tree is not always as sweet as the oldime compliment, "sweet as a bee tree," might lead one to suppose. The bees that run wild do not seem to have the fine taste in nectar that their domesticated cousins have. Sometimes there are poisonous spots in wild hon-ey—at least there are legends to that effect-and often, if the colony is old and the comb large, the honey is black as night.

But the bee-hunter now, alas, to be classed with professionals that have passed on, cared little about discolorason. To find a bee tree meant the ercise of keen eyesight, woodcraft, pa tience and judgment. The wandering critical moment. Taking the glory to bee seemed to have a prejudice against himself on that occasion demanded an going straight to the hive. He moseyed along from llower to flower, stopor, if he knew he was being followed dived into thickets and hummed straight across some bottomless bog. and the comb laid bare, it was well won. It was as treasure trove, earned by the blisters on the shoveler's > Same Old Sult. Hemmandhaw-Here is an interest ng article on dress.

Mrs. Hemmandhaw-What is it al H .- A lecturer describes the clothes which women will be wearing 100

Mrs. H .- Huh! That doesn't interest ne a particle H .- Why not? Mrs. H .- Because, unless something wonderful happens. I will still be wearing the same old blue velvet suit I've had ever since we were married,-Youngstown Telegram. "Optimists are all right, provided they are not unreasoning and excessive," said Norman Hapgood, the fusion leader, at a fusion luncheon in New York "The optimism of our opponents," he went on, "reminds me of Smith. A druggist said to Smith one night at the lodge: "'There's a movement on make drugs cheaper.' "'Good,' said smith. 'Good! That will bring sickness within the reach Motorist (after accident) - I'm afraid one of my lungs is punctured, Chauffeur (hopelessly)-Lord only knows where the tire kit is, sir,-Whole Bill of Fare. "The trouble with some folks," says Whitsett philasopher, "is that they want to clean up the Prosperity table at one sitting, and pretty soon there's nothing left for the dinner bell to ring

"I should think a fan manufacturer would always be sure of his capital." "Why so?" "Because it is the very business to raise the wind."

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

"Please allow me to thank the origi speaks for itself," writes a Fia. man. "I formerly drank so much coffee that my nervous system was almost a wreck." (Tea is just as injurious because it contains caffeine, the drug found in coffee.) "My physician told me to quit drinking it but I had to have something, so I tried Postum.

"To my great surprise I saw quit change in my nerves in about 10 days. That was a year ago and now my nerves are steady and I don't have those bilious sick headaches which I regularly had while drinking coffee. "Postum seems to have body-build ing properties and leaves the head clear. And I do not have the bad taste in my mouth when I get up mornings. When Postum is boiled good and strong, it is far better in tasta than coffee. My advice to coffee drinkers is to try Postum and be con-

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for copy of the little book, "The Road to Wellville." Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum-must be Instant Postum is a soluble powder A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a over his grave to do him honor. It sugar, makes a delicious beverage established. Teachers in the public Addams and Judge Julian Mack, for since 1884. He went to China on a current politics. "Tell us a regular was a greater honor to follow his instantly. Grocers sell both kinds. "There's a reason" for Postum.